GRAND JURORS BEGIN SESSION

FRANK SHAMBARGAR IS NAMED CHAIRMAN OF INVESTIGATORS.

BANK FAILURES NAMED

"Your Privilege To Inquire Into Them," Judge Tells Jury. — George Hepburn Excused.

The Grand Jury.

Frank Shambargar, Hughes township, foreman.

Sumner Johnson, Atchison township.

John Rush, Grant township.

Sam Jones, Green township.

George Ulmer, jr., Hopkins township.

Newton Long, Jackson township

E. K. Bailey, Lincoln township

L. D. Jordan, Monroe Township.

Fletcher Dalby, Nodaway township.

Edwin Wallace, Polk township.

Emmett O. Gray, Union township.

Lawrence Skidmore, Washington township.

Charged by Judge John M. Dawson to investigate, among other things, the three recent bank failures in Nodaway County, the annual grand jury summoned by the county court went into session at the courthouse this afternoon. It was shortly afer 1:30 o'clock when Judge Dawson delivered his charge.

George Hepburn, one of the twelve jurymen, selected by the county court, claimed exemption because he served on the last grand jury, less than a year ago. He was excused by Judge Dawson, and Newton Long was named in his place.

Judge Dawson appointed Frank Shambargar of Hughes township as foreman.

Bank Failures Mentioned.

The recent bank failures were mentioned specifically in Judge Dawson's charge.

"There have been several bank failures in this county," he advised them. "It is your privilege, if you desire, to inquire into them, and if you find that any forgeries have been committed, any thefts, and criminal misappropriation of funds, or any acceptance of funds by officers of the bank, knowing that it was insolvent, this constitutes a violation of the law, and you should return indictments."

In opening his charge, Judge Dawson stressed the importance of the grand jury as an instrument of justice, saying:

"Gentlemen, a grand jury is one of the important arms of the court. In the early history of the courts of this country, their services were indispensable in all felony charges. At that time, the prosecuting attorney did not have the power to prosecute felonies except on indictments by the grand jury.

"A few years ago the law was amended by constitutional amendments, and the prosecuting attorney now can prosecute any case by information. It was thought that the grand jury could be largely dispensed with, but the difficulties in solving of crimes and in the obtaining of evidence by the prosecuting attorney make it necessary at least once a year to empanel a grand jury in each county of the state.

Have Power to Question.

"The prosecuting attorney has no authority to bring witnesses into his office and compel them to answer questions under oath. You, as grand jurymen, can tell anyone you please and, under oath, can ask and require an answer to any question, except for certain constitutional rights of witnesses."

The jurors were urged to "inquire diligently into violations of the law of every kind and character," the court adding:

"There is a good deal, I am told, of supposed criminal actions at this time. The prosecuting attorney probably has notes of information which he has received that will be submitted to you."

The jury was instructed to make the usual inspection of county buildings, and was cautioned to apply rules of economy to the summoning of witnesses, calling no more than can be questioned each day.

The grand jury will meet in the jurors' room on the second floor of the courthouse until the county court has finished its session in the courtroom on the first floor.

Ravenwood Man Is Accused of Assault

William W. Furlong, Charged With Beating Wife Friday Night, Waives Preliminary.

Charged with "beating up" his wife, William W. Furlong, a farmer living northwest of Ravenwood, was arrested Saturday by Lucian Slagle, deputy sheriff at Ravenwood. He was brought to Maryville late Saturday and was arraigned in justice court before Judge J. H. Sayler, on a charge of felonious assault. He waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to circuit court with bond fixed at $1,000.

Failing to furnish the bond, Furlong was committed to the county jail to await trial. The alleged assault took place Friday night.

WILLIAMS TO INVADE COUNTY

U. S. SENATOR TO SPEAK HERE ON OCTOER 20.

BIG RALLY ON OCT. 30

Hyde, Faust and Senator Capper To Deliver Addresses At Republican Meeting At Courthouse.

Senator George H. Williams, Republican candidate for United States Senator from Missouri, will speak at the Circuit court room here at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, October 20, it was announced today.

This will be Senator Williams' first address in Nodaway County, although he has visited here twice since becoming Senator, the last time being during the Northwest Missouri teachers meeting here last year. He was in Nodaway County shortly after being appointed to succeed the late Seldon P. Spencer.

Senator Williams will probably arrive in Maryville on the morning of the day he is to speak in order to meet as many persons as possible.

The Republicans will also hold a big rally in the courtroom here on October 30, both afternoon and evening. Arthur M. Hyde, former governor of Missouri, will deliver an address and Charles L. Faust, Congressman from this district, will also speak.

Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas, leader of the farm bloc in the Senate, will also be present at the rally and deliver an address, according to a telegram received this morning.

Plans for the Williams meeting and the rally are being rapidly completed.

New H. S. Teacher Employed by Board

Miss Letha Wilson Of Jamesport To Be Part-Time History Instructor—Equipment Purchases Approved.

Miss Letha Wilson of Jamesport, a student in the State Teachers College here, was appointed a part-time teacher of history in the Maryville High School at a meeting of the school board Saturday night.

The school board also approved the purchase of a bass horn, a set of encyclopedias, six new typewriters for the commercial department, some farm shop equipment for vocational agriculture and some lumber for manual training students.

Infirmary May Be Finished This Week

Furnishings Have Not Arrived, However, and Buildings Will Not Be Occupied Until Oct. 20.

The new county infirmary building will be completed this week if the weather permits.. However, as the furniture and other furnishings have not arrived, it is expected the building will not be ready for occupancy until about Oct. 20.

E. R. Leaverton of the Crown Construction Co., of Lincoln, Nebr., which is erecting the building, was in Maryville today and, with Judge E. T. Bailey, visited the building. The tile roofing is being put on this week and the plumbing and heating will be installed within the next few days. Mr. Leaverton said that according to the records kept by his men on the job, there had been only three days since August 29 when there was no rain.

Miss Hester Deneen of St. Joseph, spent the week-end with her parents here, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Deneen.

Mrs. Mabel Gillette spent Sunday in Barnard, visiting her father.

BARBER TO BE BROUGHT BACK

GRAND JURY TO QUIZ FORMER BANK CASHIER.

RETURN IS ORDERED

In Penitentiary for Ten Years, He Will Testify as to Rumors That He Was "Goat."

Robert N. Barber, former cashier of the Northwestern Bank at Burlington Junction, who is now serving a sentence of ten years in the penitentiary after entering a plea of guilty to embezzlements and forgeries, will be brought back to Maryville to testify before the grand jury which went into session today.

Sheriff Lowell B. Campbell will leave today for Jefferson City to get Barber and will probably return by Wednesday morning. After Barber has testified, he will be taken back to Jefferson City.

The order for the return of Barber was made in circuit court this morning by Judge John M. Dawson upon motion of George P. Wright, prosecuting attorney. Mr. Wright stated no call had been made on him for Barber as a grand jury witness but that the action was taken on his own motion so as to bring out all the facts possible in connection with any criminal wrongdoing on the part of others in connection with the failure of the Northwestern Bank.

Barber was sentenced in circuit court here thirty days after it was discovered that irregularities, embezzlements and forgeries had been committed by him, which resulted in the closing of the bank. There have been rumors that others assisted Barber, and that Barber was made the "goat." At least, it is said some of the people of Burlington Junction have been of that opinion.

The motion of the prosecuting attorney follows:

"Comes now George P. Wright, prosecuting attorney within and for the county of Nodaway and State of Missouri, and states to the Court that a Grand Jury is now duly empaneled, sworn and charged, to enquire within and for the body of the County of Nodaway and State of Missouri; that one Robert N. Barber, heretofore duly convicted and senteneed, is now in the custody of Leslie Rudolph, Acting Warden of the Missouri State Penitentiary, situate in the City of Jefferson, and State of Missouri; and that the said Robert N. Barber is a competent and material witness in matters under investigation by said Grand Jury.

"Wherefore, your petitioner prays an order of this Court for a writ of Habeas Corpus ad Testificandum directed to Lowell B. Campbell, Sheriff of Nodaway County aforesaid, commanding him to forthwith bring the body of the said Robert N. Barber before this Honorable Court and the Grand Jury aforesaid."

The order of the court signed by Judge Dawson and given to Sheriff Campbell in part says:

"Now, Therefore, it is ordered and adjudged that you bring or cause to be brought, the body of the aforementioned Robert N. Barber before the Honorable Court in and for the County and State aforesaid, at Maryville, Missouri, forthwith, then and there to testify to the best of his knowledge and belief in the above entitled cause and before said Grand Jury, and in this fail not at your peril."

Maryville Bride to Dwell in Loveland

Bridegroom's Colorado Address Ideal for Honeymoon.—Two Licenses Issued.

"I'd love to live in Love-land with a girl like you," ran a song popular a few years ago.

The heroine of the song-romance had nothing on Miss Verda Livengood, of Maryville, to whom a license was issued here this morning to wed Carmen C. Crutcher of Loveland, Colo.

Another marriage license, issued late Saturday from the office of Mrs. Mamie Clardy, county recorder, was to Alfred C. Melton and Hattie May Jones, both of Maryville.

This license, with two previously reported, made a total of three issued Saturday and four to start the month. October, the marriage license officials testify, long since displaced June as the "month of brides" and seems to be becoming increasingly popular.

This in spite of impending coal bills, and Christmas but a few weeks off!

Several Out-of-Town Attorneys Here Today

Judge L. D. Ramsay of Rock Port, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. W. W. Holliway, also of Rock Port, were in Maryville today, as Judge Ramsey had business in circuit court here.

Judge Ramsay is a brother of the late Judge W. W. Ramsay of Maryville and has not visited Maryville for many years. Judge Ramsay says he will be "81 years young" next April.

Other attorneys in Maryville today at the opening of circuit court were Ed Kelso, Bruce DuBois and James Anderson of Grant City, and James W. McKnight of Albany.

FLOOD WATERS AGAIN MENACE

FOUR-INCH RAIN HERE SINCE EARLY SATURDAY.

RAILROAD DAMAGED

Burlington Service Impaired — 102 River Reported Falling at 2:30 o'Clock This Afternoon.

A four-inch rain since early Saturday morning again sent creeks and rivers throughout Nodaway County on a rampage.

The 102 River was at the 18.5-foot stage at the city pump station at 8 o'clock this morning. The water was on a standstill, it was said. The river started to rise about 8 o'clock yesterday morning, continuing until about 2 o'clock this morning.

At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, the 102 river had fallen about six inches since 8 o'clock this morning. The water was rapidly receding from the road, it was said.

The river here lacks about eight inches of being as high as it was during the flood last month. However, at Bedford the river is higher than at any time this year and when this water reaches here, it is expected to send the river to the mark of last month or even higher.

Wabash trains are having little difficulty in getting through, it was said at the station here this morning. The "slow track," caused by the heavy rains of the last two days, will necessitate the trains running behind schedule. No. 11, westbound, early morning passenger from St. Louis, was about one hour late this morning. Creeks near Pattonsburg and Gallatin are reported on a rampage but the water is not yet over the tracks.

The Burlington has been seriously damaged by the flood waters, W. E. Goforth said this afternoon. The morning passenger train, southbound, was about thirty minutes late here and did not go further. It returned to Creston at noon, will come to Maryville as the afternoon train and then will go back to Creston tonight.

The track between Arkoe and Barnard is under water and it is impossible to learn how much is washed out. The work done about two weeks ago had not yet "settled," Mr. Goforth said, and much of this is probably washed away.

Through train service from Creston to St. Joseph probably cannot be resumed until Wednesday afternoon or Thursday morning, Mr. Goforth believes, and only then if the weather remains good.

Rivers and creeks throughout the country were reported rising this afternoon. At Clearmont, the Nodaway River was higher than it has been so far this year. Damage to several bridges near Elmo was reported.

The Chicago Great Western is reported running on schedule.

Several reports have been received about more damages to the bridges of the county and also to some of the recent fills which were made after the floods of several days ago.

The approach to the river bridge, north of Clearmont, was taken out yesterday, according to word received by Judge E. T. Bailey of the county court. A bridge west of Clearmont over the drainage ditch, was reported out.

George Ulmer, Jr., says there were three bridges in Hopkins township which are impassable, and Z. R. Alexander of Elmo reported some bridges out in Lincoln township.

The Mowry Branch, east of Hopkins, was said to have been as high yesterday as at any time during the last several years.

Miss Neva Wallace, teacher in the St. Joseph schools, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Wallace at Clearmont.

TWO SONS AND FATHER FINED

FAMILY TRIO PLEAD GUILTY TO LIQUOR CHARGE.

OTHER PLEAS ENTERED

Several Defendants in Minor Cases Given Small Fines—Some are Dismissed.

James McKee and his sons, Lyman McKee and George McKee, pleaded guilty in circuit court this morning to a charge of possession of intoxicating liquor and were fined $200 each. For good cause shown, the fines were commuted to $50 each.

Arthur Gaskill entered a plea of guilty to gaming and was fined $25.

Roy Behm pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace and was fined $1. A similar charge against Henry Behm was dismissed.

Charles Bigley and Joseph Maxwell, arraigned on a charge of robbery, gave bond of $1,000 each and the case was continued by agreement.

Ovid Rhoads and Roy Langley, on charges of making intoxicating liquor, disposing of intoxicating liquor and unlawful use of distilling apparatus, waived formal arraignment and entered pleas of not guilty to all the charges. The bond of each was fixed at $500 in each of the three cases.

Edward Schweikhardt and Jesse Gattin, charged with possession of intoxicating liquor, entered pleas of not guilty and bond was fixed at $500 in each case.

The prosecuting attorney dismissed the following cases:

Kenneth Vaughn Duncan and Gladys Duncan, possession of intoxicating liquor. By agreement the cases were taxed against defendants.

John Pitts, violating motor vehicle law.

Roy Tibbetts, child abandonment.

The case of the State vs. Raymond Gunn, assault with intent to rape (on appeal), was stricken from the docket.

State against Ernest Riley, gaming, continued by agreement.

Bad Check Writer to Jail.

Earl Jennings of Maloy, Ia., pleaded guilty to a charge of issuing bogus checks and was given a sentence of three months in the county pail. Jenkins is 21 years old. The checks were given at Hopkins. He was in court here with his father.

Peter Carmichael, carrying concealed weapons, waived formal arraignment and bond was fixed at $1,000, which was given.

Ten drainage district cases were set for October 18 and 19. These cases are objections against the damage awards made by the commissioners of the Andrew-Nodaway Drainage district.

Northwestern Bank vs. James O. Stafford, defendant filed application to be permitted a copy of the record for inspection. The copy was ordered by the court.

One Parole Ended.

John Pitts and Benjamin Pitts were discharged from their paroles for good cause shown, and, on payment of costs, Roy Tibbetts and Daniel W. Sumy were also discharged from paroles.

The damage cases of Ethel Thayer and B. G. Thayer against the C. H. Atkinson Paving Co., were continued by agreement.

The suits of the platte Valley Bank against William Bogue and J. R. Russell against James E. Strickler, and others, were dismissed in vacation with the costs paid.

Wm. F. Linebaugh vs. Johnson & Co., notes, defendants filed motion to require plaintiffs to give security for costs.

In the case of T. C. Power & Bro., Ltd., vs. Tilden S. Craig and others, attachment, plaintiffs filed costs bond, which was approved, and plaintiffs filed attachment bond which also was approved.

Elaborate Air Plan Made by Mussolini?

Italian Newspaper Says Greatest Air Program In History Has Been Approved By Premier.

Rome, Oct. 4.—The newspaper L'Impero today states that Premier Mussolini has approved plans for one of the most elaborate air projects in history. The plans include non-stop airplane flights from Rome to New York, to San Francisco and to Yokohama.

The flights would be made, the newspaper states, in an Italian seaplane equipped with four engines.

The airplane is scheduled to hop off on its first distant flight in April, 1927, according to the newspapers.

CROWD CHEERS AIMEE'S PLAY

ANGELUS TEMPLE OVERFLOWING LAST NIGHT.

HEARING IS RESUMED

State To Try To Prove Ormiston Left Clark Hotel Two Hours Before "Drowning."

Los Angeles, Oct. 4.—After a recess over the week end during which time Aimee Semple McPherson, famous woman evangelist, with the aid of her followers at Angelus Temple, portrayed "March of the Martyrs," a tableaux of religious persecution which she claims is a parallel to her case, the preliminary hearing of the evangelist, her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, and Mrs. Lorraine Wisemann-Seilaff, all charged with conspiracy, was scheduled to get under way again today.

An overflow crowd was on hand last night at Angelus Temple to watch and applaud Mrs. McPherson as the principal character in the various episodes depicting religious persecution.

Mrs. McPherson also continued her attack on District Attorney Asa Keyes last night. Speaking into a microphone, the powerful radio station of Angelus temple was utilized by her as a means of letting the people have her version of the conspiracy hearing now in progress.

"Violent persecution" was the manner in which she referred to Keyes' handling of the case.

Keyes has refused to become involved in any controversy outside the court and no action has been taken to stop Mrs. McPherson's discussion of the case over the radio, although Mrs. Seilaff has become incensed concerning the remarks about herself and other witnesses.

Deputy District Attorney Joseph Ryan, it was learned, expected to reveal that Ormiston, under the name of George McIntire, checked out of the Clark Hotel here two hours before the evangelist was "drowned" at the beach. This evidence, it was pointed out, will tally with the testimony of Thomas Melville, doorman at the Clark, and Walter Lambert, a haberdasher, who testified they saw the evangelist enter the Clark Hotel carrying a brief case. Lambert added that a man, identified by him as Ormiston, followed the evangelist a minute later.

The deputy district attorney, it was learned, will attempt to prove that the evangelist had reservations at other Los Angeles hotels. Employes of the Ambassador Hotel testified at the last session that she maintained a room in that hotel and that a man resembling Ormiston was a frequent caller.

65 to 75 Men Thought Trapped in Iron Mine

Explosion Occurs Shortly Before Noon And All Of Those Entombed Are Believed Dead.

Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 4.—Between sixty-five and seventy-five miners are entombed in the Roan Iron Co's. mine at Rockood, sixty miles northwest of here, according to reports to the United States mine rescue station here today.

The reports said the men were trapped by an explosion shortly before noon.

All of those entombed are believed to have perished by fire or gas. One crew of rescue workers was already on duty inside the mine when the explosion occurred, and their fate too is in doubt.

Another crew which followed them into the shaft had not been heard from at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

FLOOD WATER TO OKLAHOMA

HUNDREDS OF FARMS ARE INUNDATED.

HIGHWAYS IMPASSABLE

Kansas And Oil State Get Overflow From Swollen Streams; Bartlesville Bears Brunt.

Kansas City, Oct. 4.—Cessation of heavy rainfall in southeastern Kansas and northeastern Oklahoma and bright clear weather today was welcomed in the flooded districts along the Veddigris River and tributary creeks, according to reports reaching here at noon.

Hundreds of farms are inundated and many families have abandoned their lowland homes while rivers rampaged from almost three weeks of steady rain.

Today, Bartlesville, Okla., was reported to be bearing the brunt of the floodwaters that Sunday washed out several miles of branch line railroads in Kansas and made highways virtually impassable.

Arkansas City, Kan., Oct. 4—With the churches and other public buildings of Arkansas City crowded with refugees from the flooded parts of the city, citizens are making every effort to care for the unfortunate who have been driven from their homes by high waters of the Arkansas River.

Between five hundred and one thousand persons are homeless as a result of the southwestern part of Arkansas City being inundated. Most of them had to be driven from their homes by rescue workers late yesterday, many believing that the flood waters would not get higher and refused to leave their homes. It was not until concentrated efforts had been made by officials and others that the residents of that part of Arkansas City were persuaded to go to higher places. This morning, the flood waters swirled through and around the homes that were abandoned under protest.

Burlington, Kan., Oct. 4.—This morning it appeared that Burlington would escape the flood menace from the Neosho River. The waters are slowly rising but had reached only the 24-foot stage and had not done much damage except in the lowlands.

Burlington, flooded three weeks ago by rushing Rock Creek, which runs through the main section of town, boarded up its store fronts and moved merchandise to second floors in anticipation of another deluge yesterday. The Neosho is expected to start falling this afternoon.

Coffeyville, Kan., Oct. 4.—Coffeyville today is isolated from the outside world by the swollen Verdigris River. No trains have been running since Friday and all automobile roads are washed out. Only telephone and telegraph communications remain in tact. The river was at the 4.5-foot stage this morning and was rising four inches an hour. The record high water mark is 6.5 feet and observers feel confident that a new mark will be established.

Independence, Kan., Oct. 4.—With farm land surrounding this city flooded, the crest of the high waters of the Verdigris River is expected at noon. The river was rising at the rate of one inch an hour this morning.

Borah Warns Farm Problem Still Vital

Washington, Oct. 4.—Returning from a western tour, Chairman Borah of the Senate foreign relations committee today warned that the farm question is yet to be solved; approved President Coolidge's latest stand on the world court; and predicted the Republicans would retain control of the next Senate.

St. Joseph Man Named on Embalming Board

Jefferson City, Oct. 4. — Governor Baker today appointed Walter Meinhoffer, Republican, St. Joseph, a member of the state board of embalmers to succeed Elmer E. Freeman of Kansas City, who resigned.

Weather

Cloudy tonight, probably showers and cooler; Tuesday fair.

ROAD MATERIALS.

A state highway director of wide experience announces that he will build no more roads of asphalt.

"It has been proved impracticable on heavy traffic roads," he explains. "It has a tendency to 'give' or 'shove' under the weight of heavy trucks, and ruts and ridges soon develop."

Asphalt is a fine paving material, but evidently of limited use at the present day, and should be confined to light-traffic roads. On such roads it may work admirably because of its elasticity and quietness.

What material then for heavy-duty roads? The authority referred to says it is a choice between concrete and brick, and that is a matter of taste and expense. Usually a good concrete road can be built considerably cheaper than a good brick road. The latter has to have a concrete base to give it strength.

Yet there is a big demand for brick roads, in spite of the expense. That is partly because "there have been so many concrete roads poorly built that people have lost faith in them," and partly because the brick looks better, lasts well and the upkeep is less, and often people are willing to pay more for it.

HAVE MONEY TO BUY FOOD NOW

In Chicago the volume of business done by restaurants, cafeterias, sandwich shops, lunchrooms and grill has increased tremendously since the passing of the saloon. In a survey made by the Christian Science Monitor recently in the Loop district it was found that fifty-six of these places are doing business where saloons were formerly located. The report states that Mr. Mark Levy, of Mark Levy & Brothers, realtors, says that soda fountain, candy and lunch stores are paying in many cases, twice as much rent as saloons did in the same locations. The old aggregate rental of about one million dollars from saloon property in the Loop district in 1919, has increased to twice and three times that amount of rental received now from other lines of business.

OCTOBER.

Five of the twelve months that make up the year have succeeded more than the other seven in winning the attention of the poets. Stormy March, "with ugly looks and threats;" fickle April, "when every star is answered by a blossom;" and merry May "when those who love must love and wed." During the first half of the year these are the months of which the muse seems to be most enamored. Of the last six only two have ingratiated themselves into our affections—October and November.

But it is agreed by common consent that not much is to be looked for from November, except bleak and bare woods and dark hours, while in October's tinted days we find a never-failing charm. It matters not how lavishly nature may have spent her energies, nor with what magic charm she may have worked during the spring and summer months, for October she has left still a goodly supply of her bounties. For some who love the garnish days of August and July, October's sunshine may be a trifle wan and pale; but it is in just this softened light that the tints of wood and field appear to their best advantage.

Whether the dim gray clouds are scurrying on their endless journey; or whether the skies are so blue that they flash and "hold the sun immeasurably far," it matters not. Turn where you will, the magic of color is there—purple and gold, yellow and brown, and green and red, and all the intervening hues and shades mingled with such infinite skill and cunning the mystery of which no man may understand.

October days are not melancholy. They invite reflection and pensiveness, to be sure; but they invite also participation and enjoyment in all the wonderful things nature has created in the months preceding. Much though we may sound the praises of April and May as the days of planning and promise, it is not until October days that the full meaning of the hope of spring is borne upon up. October is the rugged manhood of the year in all its glorious strength; it is symbolic of tasks begun and carried through to the end; it is a synonym for achievement.

The fellows who fail to get elected frequently decide that democracy is a failure.

What Other Editors Say

RAILWAY PASSENGER BUSINESS

Railway accountants analyze the official traffic reports to discover how much they are hurt by motor competitors. They find that passenger earnings are one-eleventh of total net operating income for 1925. Passenger train service alone would have shown a loss of $40,000,000 without revenue from the express business, and without payments for carrying the mail. If the railways were to lose their Pullman surcharge, one-third of their passenger profit would go with it.

Freight pays the railways better than passengers, for the reason that it grows faster, and in mass production of transportation, as of anything else the overhead fails in proportion to the increase. During the thirty years prior to 1924 freight receipts increased at double the rate of enlarged passenger earnings. Nevertheless, passenger service cannot be stopped, and the railways need all they can earn. Until motor competition is regulated the railways best hope of improving their earnings is to attract more passengers into the cars they must run. The Baltimore and Ohio reports improving its passenger business by collecting and delivering travelers at several terminal points in Manhattan. In some western cities railways are starting motor terminal delivery of passengers to the doors of their destinations. This free service is coostly, but it meets motor competition.—New York Times.

Stewart's WASHINGTON LETTER

By CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service Writer.

Washington—Thirty pounds of TNT in its vitals are too much for any tanks digestion. There was a wartime idea—not shared in by tank crews—that tanks were practically invulnerable. The fallacy of this theory has been amply demonstrated in the last few days at the Camp Meade (Md.) tank school.

Camp Meade is 25 miles from Washington and about five miles from anywhere, which is very fortunate. A high charge of still higher explosive doesn't blow a big tank into scrap metal with any advantage to the neighborhood. Doors, bolts, manhole covers, cogs, cams and assorted steel fragments fly about two city blocks in every direction.

Even at a ditance of two blocks, approximately the range from which the firing is done, the officer who pushes the button dives for cover the minute he pushes it.

So he got five obsolete and valueless tanks and undertook to learn by actual experiment. Under, on and against them—just like artillery hits—he placed the equivalent, in TNT and a new explosive called "triton," of shells of various sizes.

Firing these charges electrically, he got results far from reassuring to any soldier who may previously have thought he could go into battle in a tank in absolute safety.

Col. Cooper had no tanks left when he had finished.

Old Italian Lawyer Had 12 Commandments

No Attorney Should Accept Unjust Cases, Believed St. Alphonso de Liguort—Practiced up to 28.

Rome, Oct. 4.—Twelve commandments for lawyers was the chief merit of the legal activity of St. Alphonso de' Liguori, whose feast was recently celebrated with great devotion here and in Naples.

St. Alphonso was a practicing lawyer up to the age of 28.

The twelve commandments were:

1. No lawyer should accept unjust cases, for they are pernicious to the conscience and to decorum.

2. The client must not be burdened with unfair costs.

3. A case must not be defended with illicit or unjust means.

4. Clients' cases must be treated just as if they were one's own cases.

5. The lawyer must spare no pains or time in getting up his case properly.

6. A lawyer's delays and neglect often damage clients, and when this is the case, the lawyer should make amends.

7. The lawyer should ask God for help in his defenses, for God is the first protector of justice.

8. No lawyer should accept more cases than he can give time to.

9. Justice and honesty should be like the pupils of their eyes to lawyers.

10. If a lawyer loses a case through negligence, he ought to compensate his client.

11. In defending a suit, a lawyer ought to be truthful, sincere, respectful and logical.

12. The requisites of a lawyer are wisdom, learning, diligence, truth, fidelity and sense of justice.

A Mild Method That Cures Piles

It was formerly held that the only way to really remove piles entirely and permanently was by a surgical operation, cutting them off. However, Dr. O. A. Johnson, well known rectal specialist, has demonstrated in hundreds of cases that an operation is not necessary to get rid of piles. He does it without using the knife, electricity, burning ,tying off, acids, cautery ,ligatures or other harsh drastic means. Yet the piles are removed cleanly, entirely, and for good.

He has written a book that fully explains his method and is anxious to send it free and without obligation to any sufferer from bleeding, protruding piles or other rectal troubles. Simply send name and address to Dr. O. A. Johnson, suite 134 D, 1324 Main St., Kansas City, Mo. This book tells how to be rid of piles without the expense, pain, danger and inconvenience or a surgical operation, and also how to be rid of various other diseases caused by rectal troubles, such as nervousness, backaches, headaches, rheumatism sciatica, stomach trouble, constipation, etc. When the piles are cured the troubles they cause are cured, too.

No drudgery to fire

the COLONIAL furnace

The convenience of the wide, double feed doors of the Colonial is quickly appreciated by every furnace owner.

It isn't necessary to break coal into small bits. The big doors admit a large shovel with big lumps. This saves shoveling. Your fuel lasts longer because lumps retain fire longer.

Logs, cobs and trash are easily thrown into the Colonial. Furnace tending is easy with the conveniences offered by the Colonial double doors.

Especially suited for oil burner installations. See your nearest dealer

ADVERTISING

Always Should Be Considered As a Business Enterprise --- And Not As a Magic Formula For Unearned Success.

POWER, MAGIC, WIZARDRY, ENCHANTMENT—to the amateur no word seems strong enough to describe the undeniable accomplishments of advertising. But from a professional viewpoint, advertising merits somewhat more sober terms. As a matter of fact the making of successful advertising is a difficult business, requiring both skill and experience.

It is true that advertising will speed up sales and secure a larger volume in a shorter time for a manufacturer or merchant with foresight, courage and financial resources to carry definite business policies to completion.

But no amount of advertising will sell a product that cannot be sold without advertising.

It is certain that advertising can and does create valuable good-will for a brand or a trade-mark. Witness the actual money value of any well-advertised name.

But it is equally certain that back of that name, there must be honesty, fair dealing, and full value for the price asked. Advertising an unworthy product simply means that a larger number of people will presently discover its disadvantages.

Advertising pays its way, often many times over. It will permit lower prices through increased volume. It can reduce selling costs. It can lessen the time in which a product moves from factory to consumer.

But advertising that does not consider the problems of the jobber, the retailer and the salesman often loses more than it gains. Advertising must contain the principles of sound merchandising to be successful.

Advertising points out the merits of a product and impresses the buyer with its desirability.

But advertising cannot create a single point of superiority in a product, or add a single virtue to its manufacturer or merchant representative.

Advertising is accepted as a necessary part of modern business promotion. It has won a place for itself in virtually every industry. Rightly directed and prepared, advertising has proved that it can return a profit to the advertiser. But advertising always should be considered as a business enterprise, and not as a magic formula for unearned success.

If you are your own doctor you must be satisfied with the "cure or kill" results. But if you will counsel with the trained advertising man with the same confidence that you place in your family physician you will receive good advice

"WHAT becomes of the body?" asks the soft-eyed scientist; and we reply in clarion tones that it crawls into a red flannel undershirt, when the sumach turns to crimson and the sassafras to gold.—Bill Nye.

Thus even on the boundless prairie, where the antelope and the jack rabbit gambol together in playful innocence and a boiled shirt appears but seldom even at the most exclusive weddings and funerals, the issue of Raiment cannot be dodged. Why then hope to dodge it here, where 100 years ago the Indian hunter wooed his dusky bride, but where today our store occupies the site of his wigwam? And were he with us today (God forbid) and possessed of a forty dollar bill, would his proud limbs brook any other Raiment than Society Brand?

KUCHS BROTHERS

Fate of Daugherty to Be Known Soon

Former Attorney-General and Col. Thomas W. Miller to Attempt to Prove Absence of "Graft."

New York, Oct. 4.—The fate of former Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty and Col. Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, will be known before the end of the week.

Both former officials are accused of accepting bribes to expedite the seven-million-dollar American Metals Co. alien property transfer.

Defense attorneys in the remaining days of the trial will make every effort to prove that the Liberty bonds traced to the accounts of Daugherty and Miller were not graft payments but had been received by them in legitimate business transactions.

George E. Williams, managing director of the alien property custodian's office under Colonel Miller, took the stand today. A memorandum was introduced, giving the evidence of Miller, Williams and Adnah Johnson, former assistant attorney-general, at the Brookhart-Wheeler investigation in 1924 when the American Metals Co. case first came up. The memorandum showed that the claims in question were presented on July 28, 1921 and that conferences were held regarding them on August 2, 5 and 8.

Williams previously had testified that he did not remember any conferences before August 10 but it was admitted that there was great confusion as to dates.

The witness was cross-examined concerning the letters sent the attorney-general's office by him and signed by Miller before the claim was passed.

"Did you understand the letter did not recommend the claim?" United States Attorney Emory Buckner asked.

"My state of mind reflected in that letter was to committ the alien property custodian's office to a definite recommendation of the claim," Williams replied.

"You were passing the buck to the attorney-general's office?"

"If you want to express it that way."

"Were you recommending the claim?"

"The letter was an indefinite recommendation based on my belief that the claim had merit," Williams replied.

Editor's Wife Dies of Fractured Skull

Mrs. C. L. Rutt, wife of the managing editor of the St. Joseph News-Press, died at a hospital in that city last night as the result of a fractured skull, according to word received here today. PRIZE CALVES ARE SHIPPED

BABY BEEVES TO ST. JOSEPH FOR INTER-STATE SHOW.

JUDGING WEDNESDAY

Winners In 4-H Club Contests Have Chance For More Prizes—Pig Club Awards Announced.

Calves which won prizes in the Baby Beef Show held Saturday afternoon in connection with the 4-H Club Achievement Day program today are being shipped to St. Joseph for competition in the Interstate Baby Beef Show. A stock judging team, composed of Leon Brown, Maryville, Raymond Crater, Ravenwood, and Clifford Froyd, all members of the Ravenwood calf club, will go to St. Joseph tomorrow to take part in the stock selection contests which are scheduled to start Tuesday.

J. Ross Fleetwood, county farm agent, supervised the loading of the five prize winners, fifteen other baby beeves as a carlot, and seven calves to be sold and not shown, in a Wabash car this afternoon. It is because of the high waters and the uncertain freight service on the Burlington railroad that it is necessary to ship the baby beeves via the Wabash to Conception Junction and on the Chicago Great Western to St. Joseph. The calves should arrive at the stock yards tomorrow morning which will be in ample time for the young cattle feeders to get their animals into shape for the judging which will start Wednesday.

Roy Eldon Moore's angus calf won first place in the contest here Saturday and with a shorthorn calf fed by Fred Espey, Maryville, and herefords fed by Myron Crater, and Landis Burch, Ravenwood, and Harvey Garrard, Parnell, will be shown in the individual classes.

Notwithstanding that they are eligible to be shown in the contests in St. Joseph this week, the pigs awarded prizes here Saturday afternoon will not be sent to that place.

Those who won prizes in the pig club contest, their rankings and entries were: Eugene Moore, Maryville, first on gilt and second on barrow, Duroc; Laverne Worl, Skidmore, first on pen of barrows, second on litter, second on gilt, Hampshires; Lester Reaksecker, Maryville, second on pen of barrows, spotted Poland-Chinas; Harold Bailey, Skidmore, first on heaviest litter and second on gilt, spotted Poland-Chinas.

Girl members of the 4-H Clubs in this county took part in garment making and demonstration contests during the time the baby beef show was in progress. Winners in the garment making contests were announced in the Saturday evening edition of the Democrat-Forum and Tribune.

Graham won the prize, a banner, for the best club display while a team composed of Evelyn Evans, Audrey Linthicum, and Irene Bailey, of the Rockford Club won the demonstration team contest.

Tea towels, pillow cases, and kitchen aprons were judged by several girls and a team made up of the two girls making the highest scores. Some of the scores follow:

Evelyn Evans, 93.3 points; Delberta Mutz, 83.3; Mary Alice Jones, 79.1. The three girls are members of the Rockford club.

PASTOR TALK AT ASSEMBLY

THE REV. GUY L. PRATHER BEFORE H. S. STUDENTS.

'GOD SHOULD BE FIRST'

Six Reasons for Statement are Given In Address At Chapel Services This Morning.

The Rev. Guy L. Prather, pastor of the First Baptist Church addressed the students of the Maryville High School this morning during chapel. Reverend Prather used as his theme, "First Things First," the text being taken from Matthew 6: 33.

The minister pointed out six reasons why God should be first place in life. "The first reason is because God creates and ruled over all, and the 'Heavens declare the glory of God.' The earth shows the footprints of his feet. He is the Alpha and Omega, the beginning and end of all things. His power and wisdom and glory are found in all things. In the swelling seed, growing plant, blooming flower, shining star, babbling brook, glistening snow-flake, sparkling diamond, singing bird, prattling child, mother's love. The riddle of the universe will not be solved without him; never fully to finite minds with his help. Yet, he is the master key.

"The second reason: Because we belong to His kingdom. We are in God's plan. In our make-up we are after Him. Our divine qualities are 'In the image of God.' A soul, a mind, a will to choose, a conscience, a heart, a life, are all the handiwork of the Christ.

"The third reason: because God is the chief guarantee of right moral conduct. We can obtain the highest ideals of that is right individually with God, with others.

"The fourth reason: because God is the chief incentive to noble, intelligent, useful living. Learning, industry, home, success, stability are built upon Christianity.

"The fifth reason: because we thus secure the peace of mind and satisfaction of heart. There is ease from endless, needless anxiety. God is our Father. As He cares for the birds and the flowers, He cares even more for us. In all spiritual things there is forgiveness, fellowship and life. In the words of the Master, 'Come unto me.'

"The sixth reason: because man is in league with Him. Man climbs to his place of dominion. The closer the tie, the more zealous the search for worthwhile things. Truer, richer the heart and larger the resources at his command.

"It is no great accident that Christian nations have made greatest progress in government, industry, education and all the common conveniences of life. Many great men may not have been Christians but they were brought up in Christian homes."

BOOSTING IS UNWARRANTED

FLORIDA PROMOTERS HURTING HURRICANE VICTIMS.

OPPOSE THE RED CROSS

State Officials Say All Is Ready for Winter Tourists—Split With Relief Organization.

Washington, Oct. 4.—"An honest statement of conditions with no attempt to advertise Florida," must come from the state and Miami city officials before adequate relief can be furnished the hurricane victims of the southern peninsula, according to John Barton Payne, chairman of the American Red Cross.

Following the open split between Red Cross officials and Florida boosters Payne served notice on the mayor of Miami, that the stricken area must stop boosting and turn to honest confession if the Red Cross is to collect sufficient funds to pay for necessary relief.

Florida officials have issued statements minimizing the damage and declaring their state was ready to receive its usual winter tourists, and then have turned around and asked for aid.

Friday Payne received a telegram signed by the governor, Mayor Romfh of Miami and prominent citizens suggesting that Payne make public "over your name only" a new appeal for aid for thousands of wage earners who lost their property and are helpless except for outside relief.

Payne replied with a telegram to Mayor Romfh telling him of the handicap offered by the boosters statements and calling upon him and his associates for the honest statement of conditions without attempt to advertise Florida.

TEACHER WINS SUIT FOR PAY

BOARD MUST FULFILL CONTRACT, COURT RULES.

GENTRY COUNTY CASE

Circumstances Are Similar to Conception Junction Situation.—Verdict Is Appealed.

A teacher who is given a contract to teach school, then displaced by another before the opening of the term, must be paid her salary in full, according to a decision rendered in the Gentry County Circuit Court last week. An appeal has been taken to the Supreme Court.

The Gentry County case is interesting in this county because of a similar situation at Conception Junction. A. F. Harvey of this city was one of the attorneys for the defendant school district in Gentry County.

The case and its outcome is described by the Albany Ledger as follows:

"While it took only four days of the circuit court's time to hear and decide the case of Gladys E. Tate against School District No. 11 (Lone Star) of Gentry County, it will be many years before the results of the suit will be eradicated from that community.

"The case has interested the entire northeast section of the county, while especially the citizens of the Lone Star school district are materially interested. A large number of the citizens from that section were in town the most of the four days, some of them as witnesses and others as interested spectators.

"The case was called last Friday. Mrs. Gladys Tate, a former teacher of the Lone Star school, brought suit against the school board on a breach of contract. On December, 1924, Mrs. Tate was employed by the school board to teach the 1925-26 term of school. At the April, 1925, election a new member of the board was elected and the new board employed another teacher for the approaching fall and winter term, ignoring the contract of the former board. On the opening day of school both teachers were present, but the board refused to allow Mrs. Tate to have charge of the school. She filed suit for $720, the amount of salary for the term. The case was warmly contested, E. G. Robison, of Maysville and D. D. Reeves representing the plaintiff, and A. F. Harvey, of Maryville, and J. W. McKnight of the school district. The jury returned a verdict Tuesday evening giving Mrs. Tate the entire amount sued for. Yesterday morning an appeal was taken to the supreme court.

"This is a most unfortunate incident, and one that has caused bitter dissension in this fine neighborhood. Relatives, friends against friends, neighbors against neighbors, interests against interests, and it has entered into the church and Sunday school circles. It will be years before its ill effects can be eradicated from this otherwise peaceful community, if it ever is."

College Man Will Head State League

Clarence Bush, Senior, Named President Of Speaking And Oratorical League-Contests Here Next Spring.

Clarence Bush, a senior of the State Teachers College, has been selected student president of the Missouri State Teachers Colleges' Oratorical and Extemporaneous Speaking League, it was made known today. He will preside at the state speaking contests to be held in Maryville next March.

Three of the state teachers colleges of this state are already members of the league and both Kirksville and Warrensburg colleges, which at present are not members, are expected to join before the contests next spring. The winner of the state contest will be eligible to compete in the interstate meet, for which the place and date of meeting has not been made known.

Mr. Bush's home is in Cainesville and he has taken part in speaking and debating contests at the college for the last three year.. He is a member of the Philomathean Literary Society.

Paul Stone, representing the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College, won the contest last year. A prize of $15 is awarded to the winner of the state contest while $50 will be the amount given to the man who ranks highest in the inter-state contest.

Would Not Send Boys to School—Is Jailed

Rancher Denounces Public Schools But Is Willing To Enter Sons In Industrial Institution.

Oakdale, Cal., Oct. 4.—J. R. Miles, local rancher, is in jail because he believes the only way to keep his sons out of jail is to keep them out of school.

Until today Miles will ponder in a cell his theories that schools nowadays "are only places where children are taught to forge checks, drink, gamble and prepare for prison."

And if the rancher doesn't change his mind today he will be re-sentenced again, according to A. G. Elmore, county superintenden of schools.

"I'd rather spend the winter here than send my two sons to Oakdale high school," Miles declared from his cell.

"We'll do our best to accommodate him if he still refuses to obey the school law," Elmore said.

The rancher said he intended to register his offsprings in some industrial school, but not in any high school.

Elmore, however, declared the Miles boys will go to high school as long as they live in the district and that he intends to forceably have them registered if the father remains in his stand against it.

Missouri Theatre Offers Vaudeville

For the first time since the opening night, the Missouri Theatre will have vaudeville tonight. By a fortunate break in booking schedules, the management was able to secure King Felton and Company, an act combining magic, music and dancing.

For next week, the Missouri has booked Schnitz Seymoure's Follies, a company with more than thirty persons and a star already favorably known here through previous visits. There will be two performances nightly, with no pictures except short comedies. The usual matinee will be given Wednesday.

BARGAINS EVERY DAY BUT SUNDAY

The VANITY CASE

by Carolyn Wells

IF FICTION

© 1926 by G P PUTNAM SONS

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

MRS. PRENTISS sees lights mysteriously appear and disappear in the HEATH household next door one night and the next day Harbor Gardens, Long Island, is agog with the murder of MYRA HEATH and the disappearance of her husband, PERRY.

House guests of the Heaths are LAWRENCE INMAN, heir to Myra's fortune, and BUNNY MOORE, vivacious, golden-haired, to whom suspicion points because of her refusal to answer questions.

Myra Heath was peculiar: She never used cosmetics, never wore colors. She had a mania for collecting glass, and it was a rare old whisky bottle from her collection that the murderer used to kill her. Candles were burning at her head and feet and nearby was a card marked, "The Work of Perry Heath." Strangest of all, she was heavily made up and garbed in gay colors.

The peculiar thing about Heath's disappearance is that all the windows and doors had been locked on the inside the night before and were found that way in the morning. Finger prints of Bunny Moore and Inman were found on the bottle.

At the Country Club the murder is discussed by SAM ANDERSON, Heath's rival for the club presidency; AL CUNNINGHAM, who is trying to solve the crime, and others. Some believe Heath the murderer. Anderson disagrees. TODHUNTER BUCK, nephew of Mrs. Prentiss and in love with Bunny, suggests to Cunningham that Heath also may have been murdered.

EMMA, a waitress in the Heath home, tells of Seeing Bunny ascend the stairs about the time of the murder, carrying her vanity case. Later Bunny is amazed to get a phone call from Perry Heath telling her Inman is guilty. Bunny breaks down and faints under a grilling by DETECTIVE MOTT, who makes up his mind that she is guilty.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXVII.

Though pretending a haughty indifference to matters of gossip or scandal, the Gaybrook Harbor Country Club, was, to a man, deeply interested in the Heath case.

The club had members from both sides of the bridge, but the most influential and important ones were Parkers.

A group of these were sitting in their favorite haunt, a shaded corner of a verandah, awaiting the luncheon hour.

They were the ones who had employed Al Cunningham to look into the case and they welcomed him with interest as he came up the steps.

"I've just left the Heath house," he said, speaking gravely. "That detective, Mott, seems to have a strangle hold on the Moore Baby, and—well, I can't see any other direction to look."

"Bunny Moore!" exclaimed Arthur Black. "That won't do! Why, she is a peach, an angel! It's too absurd to think of her killing anybody! You'll have to do better than that, Cunny!"

"Well, here's the straight of it. They've proved that the house was so securely bolted and barred, that the murderer couldn't get out after his crime. Unless, of course, he was let out by some one inside, who bolted the door or window after him. Got that?"

"Yes," said Sam Anderson, a little impatiently, "go on."

"Well, they are still sifting the evidence, but Mott says that he has no doubt about Miss Moore being the criminal. He says the youngsters of today stop at nothing, not even at crime. He says she is madly in love with Heath, and he agrees with a suggestion of mine, that maybe Bunny Moore and Perry were in cahoots, and planned the crime together. Then, either Perry did the killing and Bunny let him out the door, or he went away earlier, and left her to do it."

"Oh," Sam Anderson said, in a tone of utter disgust at the idea, "you know, Cunningham, you know, that infant of arms couldn't—simply couldn't do such a thing!"

"That's where you're wrong, old boy. The infants in arms of today are not in their parents' arms, by any means! And a fat lot you know about girls, anyway! I doubt if you've ever so much as spoken to a girl of the current issue! They are Oh Lawks! for sure!"

"Stuff and nonsense!" Anderson remarked coldly. "You're pig-headed, Al. You've got that Mott man's views in your head, and you shape everything to fit them. Now, if you're going to carry on, you hunt down Heath. That's the first thing to do. Am I right, Black?"

"Why, yes, Sam. You see, I think myself that Heath is the criminal. I don't care what you all say. I think Heath killed his wife because he found her with Inman. Then he vamoosed. I don't care about clues and evidence, my knowledge of human nature tells me that, given a man and wife and a Tertium Quid, there's bound to be a domestic tragedy."

"Well, there's been a domestic tragedy all right," Anderson smiled, grimly. "But your great knowledge of human nature is not infallible, I suppose."

"Oh, Lord, Sam, talk about pig headedness! If you get a notion into that old bald head of yours, a Japanese earthquake couldn't dislodge it!"

But Al Cunningham had respect for the judgment of Anderson, and he went away to ruminate over his advice as to finding Perry Heath.

It ought not to be difficult. A man can't drop out of existence without leaving some sign, some clue as to his whereabouts.

Heath was not a man of affairs, his business was simple—merely the disposing of his pictures through dealers, or occasionally to private buyers.

A list of such buyers and dealers must be easily obtainable, and it could not be a very arduous task to interview some of them. And some of them must have knowledge of Heath.

Yet Cunningham was by no means sure of this. A business man's associates would know about him, but an artist is a different proposition. If for any reason Perry Heath chose to absent himself for a time or forever, it did not seem to Cunningham that he could be easily found.

Why Heath wanted to disappear, he did not know, but he felt sure the disappearance was voluntary and would be prolonged.

He tried to delve into the mystery of the identity of the criminal. There was that strange card to be considered.

If the make-up was the work of an artist or a woman, surely the card was the work of a woman or an imbecile. No man would do such a thing as that. But a woman would be quite capable of thinking the placing of that card would throw suspicion on Heath.

Oh, pshaw, all clues seemed to point to a woman. The lighted candles, the crimson scarf—it was all very well to say an artist, but to Cunningham's perturbed mind, they all seemed to scream, "Bunny!"

He felt a little resentful. It was all very well for those chaps to put him on the job of detecting. He was glad enough to be promised pay for it—if he could put up the goods. But he didn't think it was fair to pooh-pooh all his theories and discoveries, because, with natural chivalry, they hated to suspect a woman—a girl.

So did he. He was not enjoying the prospect of seeing that lovely morsel of femininity brought to the bar of justice.

But if he was doing sleuth work, he must follow up the avenues that opened to him, and see where they led. And he couldn't help seeing that they led, apparently, at least, to Bunny Moore.

So the case of Bunny Moore must be looked into. And old Anderson could say what he chose, he had no idea what little devils flappers were! Cunningham himself had a sister, and he knew she was the despair of his parents, and was almost incorrigible. He had tried, himself, to lecture her, but he found he might as well talk to a self-willed monkey. She snapped her fingers at him and laughed in his face.

She pretended a sort of mock obedience and then ran away and acted up forty times worse. Of course, he couldn't believe her capable of murder, but, he held that Bunny's killing of Myra was unpremeditated, perhaps an accident.

But the evidence was, to his mind, strong. He had counted up the hours of the lights snapping on and off, as Mrs. Prentiss had related them.

And as he reconstructed things, Bunny had left her vanity case down in the studio and went down to get it. Maybe, he surmised, she knew she would meet Heath there. Maybe Myra heard them together, and came down—angry. Maybe, Heath, dreading a row, cleared out, and the two women quarrelled.

Then, little Bunny, losing her temper, grabbed up the bottle and hurled it at Myra, with unexpected effect.

Then, stunned at what she had done, the girl may have been temporarily out of her senses and might have given way to the whim of painting Myra's face, almost unconsciously.

Oh, well, there was no use in surmising, but he felt that his reconstruction was right in the main, if not in every detail.

But he set himself to work to hunt up Perry Heath or to learn something about him.

And this legitimate search was far more to his taste than tracking down a poor little defenseless girl.

For whatever he might think of her ways and whims, Cunningham couldn't help admiring the lovely child, and couldn't help a deep pity and compassion for her.

He was not enjoying the prospect of seeing that lovely morsel of femininity brought to the bar of justice.

New Mystery Plane in Altitude Flight

London, Oct. 4.—Flying an all-metal "mystery" airplane equipped with a new type of supercharger Flight-Lieutenant W. S. Bullman, Britains most expert test pilot is shortly to attempt to break the altitude record.

Experiments with the new plane and altitude flying equipment have been going on for some months and tests with the new supercharged engine indicate that it should be able to function at nearly full power up to 50,000 feet.

Lieut. Bullman will wear an improved type of oxygen gas-mask, and a head covering lined with fur and electrically warmed. His uniform will be covered with a heavy wollen suit also electrically heated and on top of this he will wear a leather suit thickly padded with down feathers. His goggles and windscreen will be protected by an anti-freezing mixture, and all the controls of his machines enclosed in an electrically heated cover fitted with transparent mica.

At 50,000 feet it is estimated the temperature will be at least 100 degrees below zero. British air experts are not so doubtful of the machines ability to reach an altitude of over nine miles as they are of the pilots inability to stand the cold and low pressure.

LABOR MORE, ADVISES U. S.

DECREASED PAY ALSO SUGGESTED AS AID TO EUROPE.

BRITAIN'S IRE UP

Doesn't Take Kindly To Uncle Sam's Formula For Economic Stabilization—Say Its Unworkable.

London, Oct. 4.—Suggestions from the United States that bankrupt Europe must work longer hours in order to make good its wasted capital provoke a certain amount of irritation among British industrialists.

It is not politically feasible, they say; British labor won't stand for it.

The mine owners have tried that course and their works have been tied up for months and their world markets lost.

There is one other course open to British industry, say the experts, and that is to utilize more electricity. As between longer hours and the utilization of more electric power, they think the electric power will prove to be cheaper.

The chief statistician of a great British concern, with worldwide ramifications, laid the situation bare before a representative of the United Press.

"In its present dilemma British industry, in theory, should cheapen production either by reducing wages, by increasing hours or by some third method. If wages are reduced, the purchasing power of the community is lowered; there are thousands of small shop keepers who feel it immediately; hence there is a great body of opinion solidly opposed to anything like a countrywide reduction of wages. The support that the miners are getting, for example, among the shopkeepers of the entire industrial district is something phenomenal; it must be seen to be appreciated. It is a tacit alliance based on self-interest.

"Then comes the question of hours. American opinion seems to be that the hours should be increased in order to increase production and thus restore our wasted assets. In the judgment of most big industrialists, the advice is excellent but it is not especially relished because it is, as a matter of fact, a counsel of perfection. We would do it if we could, but we can't.

"The European workman is jealous for his leisure. He has been fighting ever since the 1840's for shorter hours and he is thoroughly expert at 'soldiering' on the job if you increase his hours. This is so well understood in Great Britain, that I believe there is not a single industry planning to follow the mine owners' example in an attempt to force a longer day. Not one of the heavy industries, so-called, has any intention of precipitating further labor troubles over hours.

"To be frank with you, what British industry would like is greater flexibility over hours and greater freedom from parliamentary interference.

"Some men, for example, could easily stand a twelve hour day. Take the man who closes the gates at a railroad crossing. That is light work; he closes the gates perhaps once or twice an hour, and rests peacefully the remainder of the time. We think he would stand a twelve-hour day without any increase of fatigue; on the other hand, there are men who should not be allowed to carry on for more than six hours.

"But all this League of Nation agitation for an eight-hour day is, in our judgment, reactionary; it is standardizing something which should not be standardized; every industry should be given a chance to work out hours as an economic rather than a political question.

"Political interference with hours makes for nonsense. For example, when the War broke out, the munition works discovered that owing to sentimental legislation passed in 1901, they could work women twelve hours a day, that is, between the hours of 6 a. m. to 6 p. m., or between 7 a. m. and 7 p. m., but they could not work the women in eight-hour shifts! That is, they could not have one shift working from 6 a. m. to 2 p. m., and another from 2 p. m. to 8 p. m., because no woman was permitted to work after 7 p. m.

"With all respect to American opinion, we think that the reduction of costs through intensive electrification of industry is the most feasible way out.

"Forty percent of Britain is now equipped with electric power sold at a rate which is as low as, if not actually lower than the American rates. One of our British stations, Barton recently achieved the world's record for thermal efficiency when it gave an average over six months of 20.33 per cent.

"British industry is not going in for the tremendous super-power stations familiar to America but it is specializing on economy, and that may prove eventually our industrial salvation."

Lone Cop Declares War Against Russia

Paris, Oct. 4.—When Alain Gerbault, the young French navigator who is girdling the world aboard a twenty-foot sloop, arrived at the Marquesas Islands, in the Pacific, he met with a reception recalling the historic landing of the Americans in the island of Guam.

The Marquesas Islands are under the sovereignty of France but they are off the beaten track, just as was Guam a generation ago. Therefore news penetrates slowly. Gerbault arrived off the coast flying what the local authorities—or authority, to be exact—thought was a Soviet Russian flag. It was merely a Polynesian handkerchief, used by the inhabitants of those lands as a garment, but it was bright red.

Jacques Bertrand, the lone gendarme who represents France in her far off possession, saw red. He mobilized himself and went to war. Being a good diplomat, he called on Gerbault to show his passport. The sailor told Bertrand to go to. Bertrand got excited. He was about to proceed to the destruction of the enemy fleet when a resident of the islands who had been there for many a long year, intervened.

"This," he said, "reminds me of the arrival of the Americans in Guam. It was in September of 1898. Nobody here knew that the Spanish-American war had been fought. There was no wireless in those days. So, when Governor Sanchez y Caballero saw a ship on the horizon flying the American banner he got ready to go out to say howdy and get news of the outside world. As he was leaving the government house three cannon blasts from the ship brought the entire island to attention.

"Governor Sanchez y Caballero was downcast. Profoundly hurt in his Castilian pride he went aboard the American warship and said to the captain: 'Excuse me, good and honored sir, for not returning your salute but we have no powder.' The captain said: 'That's all right, hidalgo. That island of yours is now ours.'"

Having heard this recital Chief Gendarme Bertrand saluted and listened while Gerbault informed him that he was a Frenchman, a sailor, a little eccentric in his way of voyaging perhaps, but none the less entitled to respect. Bertrand asked him to the island's cafe to have a drink.

Prince and the Swedish Crown Prince's

TO AVOID RECURRENCE OF TUBERCULOSIS

Clean Thoughts, Clean Living and Good Food, Plus Sunshine and Out-of-Door Life, Will Tend to Lengthen Life.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator From New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

An Ohio boy, veteran of the late war, has written me about himself. He contracted tuberculosis in France and, he says, has been "chasing the cure" for nearly six years. Now he is recorded as an "arrested case."

Naturally this brave soldier, who gladly offered all he had for his country, is anxious to know how to prevent a recurrence of the disease. He wants to perform all his duties as a useful citizen and realizes it is impossible to do so unless he "stays cured."

It must be admitted at once that care must be exercised, or there may be a recurrence of the ailment. This is not so much because of the presence of latent germs in the system, as it is that some persons have a peculiar tendency to tuberculosis.

Each of us is likely to possess a degree of lowered resistance to one or another germ. On this account one or another infectious disease may be lying in wait. But it isn't necessary to succumb to the disease. What is necessary is to order the life in such manner as to leave no avenue of entrance for that unfriendly germ.

In a sense, almost everybody is an "arrested case" of tuberculosis. In one form or another almost without exception each of us has had some more or less active involvement with this disease. Does this startle you?

Some years ago a famous pathologist became interested in the subject we are discussing. He made a careful examination in 600 consecutive post-mortems and in 597 instances found evidence of active or healed tuberculosis. Mind you—these were not examinations into the cause of deaths from tuberculosis, but were the results of post-mortems when deaths had occurred from all causes.

This means that but three of these persons had had tuberculosis at some time or other. I speak of this, not to alarm other readers, but to reassure the soldier boy. He is an "arrested case," just as most of us are arrested cases. He can live his life and reach his normal expectancy, just as the rest of us can.

Fresh air, deep breathing, moderate daily exercise, proper eating of good food, plenty of sleep, avoidance of excessive fatigue and undue exposure, and happiness and contentment of mind—in these you have the secret of remaining an "arrested case." In these you have the secret of long life even though you never had tuberculosis.

Overwork, overwarry, unhappiness, irregular meals, exposure to wet and cold—these are almost sure to bring a recurrence, or, if you have never had the disease, to lay a foundation for it.

My dear Mr. Soldier Boy, go your way, live as you should and forget that you ever had tuberculosis. Clean thoughts, clean living, and good food, plus sunshine and out-of-door life, will permit you to live till you are eighty-nine. Is that long enough?

Answers To Health Queries.

S. Y. P. Q.—Will peroxide and lemon juice cause wrinkles? 2—Will any cocoanut oil shampoo cause the hair to turn gray?

A.—No, but it may prove drying to the skin in some instances. Apply a good cold cream after using. 2—Not to my knowledge.

A. G. B. Q.—What causes a sour stomach and bad breath especially upon arising in the mornings?

A.—Hyperacidity and indigestion. Watch your diet and avoid constipation. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

Mrs. A. I. Q.—What should a woman weigh who is 32 years old and 5 ft. ½ in. tall? 2—How can I reduce?

A.—For her age and height she should weigh about 125 pounds.

2.—Weight reduction is merely a matter of self-control as regards the diet. You should eat very sparingly of starches, sugars and fats. Exercise is necessary. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

Watch Your Frail, Puny Child Grow Strong Take on Weight

In just a few days—quicker than you ever dreamed of—these wonderful flesh making tablets called McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets will start to help any weak, thin, under-nourished little one.

After sickness and where rickets are suspected they are especially valuable. No need to give them any more nasty Cod Liver Oil—these tablets are made to take the place of that good but evil smelling, stomach upsetting medicine and they surely do it. They do put on flesh.

Ask Gaugh & Evans or any druggist for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—as easy to take as candy and not at all expensive—60 tablets 60 cents.

Insist on McCoy's, the original and genuine, and give the child a chance for 30 days. If you aren't delighted with results just get your money back. —Adv.

VALVE-IN-HEAD Buick MOTOR CARS A-10-10

THE motor car industry was startled when Buick presented the new Buick with an engine vibrationless beyond belief.

If you have driven this great new car, with this remarkable engine, you know why.

Its fluid smoothness makes other motor cars seem rough, harsh, noisy.

People who have driven Buicks for years and people who have owned much more expensive cars, are captivated by the luxury of this one.

Ft. Worth Minister Raises Fund for Trial

The Rev. J. Frank Norris, Prominent Baptist Pastor, To Trial November 1—Charged With Murder.

Fort Worth, Tex., Oct. 4.—With the murder trial of the Rev. J. Frank Norris, pastor of the First Baptist Church here, less than a month away, the minister and his workers today began raising a huge defense fund.

The pastor, nationally prominent fundamentalist, goes on trial here November 1 charged with the murder of D. E. Chipps, prominent lumber man, in the pastor's study July 17.

The drive for the defense fund was announced yesterday from the pulpit by Norris, with only a vague reference to the killing.

"We must have a defense fund equal to that raised by the other side," Norris declared. "I have been informed that a group in Forth Worth has said they will raise $100,000 if necessary to convict Frank Norris."

Big Steel Trust May Be Arranged

Yale Professor Says European Combine Is Likely—May Mean New Industrial Alliances.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 4.—Formation of the European steel combine is just a step toward new great industrial alliances throughout the world, in the opinion of Prof. F. Fairchild, of the economics department of the Yale University.

The legal restriction placed on big trusts in the United States has handicapped the development of agreements and combinations of certain sorts, Fairchild said, and at the same time has forced larged scale enterprises into other channels other than originally intended.

The European idea is radically different in that the formation of big trusts besides being legal is encouraged by the governments. He referred to Germany where big combines for a basis for prices, divide the field of market and restrict outpays with government often fostering such undertakings.

Professor Fairchild stressed the economic importance of the European move predicted that soon similar enterprises would be sanctioned in this country, leading to world wide trusts in the future.

MILLER SCHOOL

The schoolhouse has been papered and the floor oiled. We have a new building just two years old. Everything is in good shape and has been pronounced one of the best buildings in the county and we are very proud of it. It is modern in every way, except seats and we will have them next year.

Two New Englands Will Try Long Swim

Men Will Go To California Soon And There Battle Currents Off Catalina Islands.

Boston, Oct. 2.—Two New Englanders, both conquerers English channel, plan to compete in the Catalina Island swim to be held in California within a few weeks.

They are Henry Sullivan of Lowell, first American to negotiate the channel; and Charles Toth of Boston. The latter already has gone west to prepare for the swim. Sullivan will leave for California within a fortnight.

Ankle Broken From Fall on Wet Steps

Miss Elizabeth L. White, of College Faculty, Suffered Injuries Last Night—Taken to Hospital.

Miss Elizabeth L. White, of the rural education department of the State Teachers College, is in the St. Francis Hospital recovering from an injured right ankle which was broken when she fell off a porch last night. Information from the hospital this afternoon was to the effect that Miss White was resting comfortably.

It was while coming down the steps at the Mrs. Maude Keck home on West Second street that Miss White slipped on a wet board and fell to the ground. She was taken to the hospital where an examination revealed that her right ankle was broken. Both bones, at a point just above the ankle, were fractured.

Guests Leave.

Mrs. Cecilia Groppe, a former resident of Maryville, who has been visiting in Minnesota, stopped here last week to visit her brother, G. W. Irwin and Mrs. Irwin. Another sister, Mrs. J. E. Taylor of Creston, Ia., has been visiting here and returned home today. Mrs. Groppe left today for her home at Ferguson, Mo.

James W. Arnett Worse.

Mrs. James W. Arnett left Sunday for Rochester, Minn., in response to a telegram saying that Mr. Arnett's condition had became serious. He is in a hospital. Mr. Arnett has been in Rochester since early in August taking treatments.

No World Series Game Today; First in St. Louis Tomorrow

With the games standing 1-1 in baseball's World Series, there will be no game today. The scene is being shifted from New York to St. Louis, where the next three games will be played.

The contests in St. Louis will start at 1:30 p. m., and the radio reports at the Democrat-Forum and Tribune will begin shortly before that time.

If the weather remains good and the fans continue to increase in numbers, Manager Harry Todd of the Hanamo Telephone Co., through whose courtesy the reports are received, announces that he will install additional loud speakers in front of the Democrat-Forum office.

Remember, the first game in St. Louis at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Heavy selling caused grain values to fall off on the Chicago Board of Trade despite considerable bullish news.

The wheat market was rather narrow. Export business was placed at 300,000 bushels. Cash prices were steady to ¼ higher, while futures closed 1⅜ to 1⅝ lower.

Corn had a firm opening because of the rain over the belt, but when wheat weakened selling in this pit became pronounced. Cash values were ½ higher, but futures were ⅛ to ⅞ lower than Saturday.

Oats was a dull affair, reflecting the trend of the major cereals. The cash article was ¼ cent higher but futures closed 1⅛ off.

Provisions closed lower despite the higher hogs. The dip came with that in grains and in free selling of lard.

New York, Oct. 4.—Grover Cleveland Alexander, one of baseball's old masters, uncurled the mighty power in his ancient right arm to pitch the Cardinals to victory over the Yankees Sunday in the second game of the world's series before the greatest crowd that ever saw a ball game.

The mammoth Yankee stadium rocked with the roar of a vast and record gathering of 63,600 fans as the 39 year old veteran of the Cardinals' staff checked the impetuous rush of the Yankees, while his teammates clouted Urban Shocker, Yankee spitball ace from the box and battered their way to triumph by the decisive margin of 6 to 2.

It was a rousing victory for the Cardinals, one that found them turning the tables on their rivals in convincing fashion and leaving the series deadlocked as the teams entrained early Sunday evening for a baseball mad St. Louis, where the battle will be resumed Tuesday.

For six innings, the grey-thatched, rawboned Alexander, the man who was "sold down the river" late in the season as a Cub discard—was given an even battle by his veteran rival, Shocker, but in the seventh another Cardinal hero, Bill Southworth, stepped to the fore with a towering home run into the right field bleachers, a blow that came with two men on base, ended a 2-to-2 deadlock and clinched the game.

The Cardinals applied a finishing touch to their victory in the ninth, when Tommy Thevenow got a freak home run on a high fly inside the park that Ruth "mislaid," but they didn't need it. One run would have been enough to set tle the issue for Alexander was invincible after the third inning, holding the slugging Yankees hitless over the last six innings, permitting four safe blows altogether, and striking out 10 men with baffling speed, amazing control and a deceptive change of pace.

S. S. WORKERS WILL CONVENE

COUNTY CONVENTION HERE OCT. 13 AND 14.

COMMITTEES NAMED

Big Banquet at First M. E. Church on Evening of October 13 to Feature Gathering Here.

The fourteenth annual convention of the Nodaway County Council of Religious Education will be held in Maryville October 13 and 14.

Plans for the meeting were made at the First M. E. Church yesterday afternoon when all Protestant churches of the city were represented.

At least three hundred persons are expected to attend the banquet to be held at the First M. E. Church on the evening of October 13. G. B. Roseberry will be the toastmaster and short addresses will be given by Miss Ruth Bookman, Mrs. Charles Gaugh, Lawrence Wray, Mrs. Kenneth Lawrence, Miss Marie Williams, Earl Somerville, Miss Mary Todd, and Miss Zelma Needles.

The detailed program for the two-day convention will be announced later.

The following committees have been appointed and are now at work:

Superintendents—L. L. St. Clair, C. W. Rogers, T. H. Leet, J. W. Hake and Miss Laura Hawkins.

Program—Miss Eva Davis, Dr. C. C. James and Mrs. C. P. Fryer.

Publicity—The Rev. R. E. Musgrave, the Rev. R. A. Mitchell and Mrs. C. P. Fryer.

Entertainment—Mrs. I. E. Tulloch, Miss Dessa Gault, Mrs. Dan Baker, Mrs. Dick Strong, Mrs. Charles Stilwell, Mrs. F. A. Bush and L. L. St. Clair.

Reception—The Rev. William N. Dewar, Miss Ruth Bookman, T. H. Leet, L. L. St. Clair, Miss Laura Hawkins, Mrs. J. W. Herndon and several members of the Young People's Council.

The banquet committee will be composed of all pastors and Sunday School superintendents in addition to such workers as they select to sell tickets for the banquet.

The reorganization committee, consisting of Dr. C. C. James, Miss Eva Davis and Mrs. C. P. Fryer, will provide a plan to simplify the present county organization. This will be presented to the convention for consideration.

Students Must Have Birth Certificates

All children who entered school for the first time last month and those who will enroll in the future will be required to furnish birth certificates, L. E. Ziegler, superintendent, said this morning. This practice is being followed in other cities of the state, he added.

Miss Laura May Trullinger who is taking training as a nurse at the Methodist Hospital, St. Joseph, spent the week-end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Trullinger.
